

Why use a Digital Language Lab?

- Encourage Speaking Practice – One of the main benefits of a lab is that students have more opportunities to speak - through recording activities and pairing activities. Practice = success.
- Motivate Your Students – Digital Language Labs facilitate interactive multimedia activities that get your Nintendo generation students excited about learning.
- Employ Authentic Scenarios – Expose students to a variety of recordings from target language speakers in authentic situations to help them visualize how they can use their new communication skills.
- Provide Discreet Support – Shy students appreciate having the privacy of headphones and an electronic call button to ask for discreet support.
- Manage Student Attention – Keep students focused on learning activities through discreet observation & listening, and through PC desktop management.
- Integrate Differential Teaching – Instructors can configure multiple concurrent activities of varying difficulty so that all students are challenged and can work at their own pace.
- Simplify Student Evaluation – Student recordings can be captured to a centralized database for easy follow-up, or can be easily exported for 3rd party evaluation, (e.g. AP testing).
- Centralize Teaching Resources – Instructors are able to integrate a wide variety of existing teaching materials and new digital content into a centralized document library shared amongst all users.
